11. (Previously Presented) A method according to claim 9, wherein, according to the ITU-T H.324 standard, a Terminal Capability Set (TCS) message is mandated as the very first message to be send in a session setup procedure, wherein the called terminal interprets the random number in the MSD message as a secondary session key, if no TCS message was received before receiving the MSD message.

- 12. (Currently Amended) A method according to claim 7, wherein the secondary session key is a separately defined code or sequence number assigned for the previous multimedia communication session.
- 13. (Previously Presented) A method according to claim 1, wherein an INVITE message is mandated as the first message to be sent in a session setup procedure according to the Session Initiation Protocol (SIP), wherein header field information of the INVITE message is used as session key(s).

Art Unit: 2461

14. (Currently Amended) A method according to claim 1, wherein each of the terminals store session parameters used during an executed session, together with at least one session key, in order to enable the use of stored session parameters in a previously presented new session.

15. (Previously Presented) A method according to claim 14, wherein each terminal also sends to the other terminal a message acknowledging its capability of using stored session parameters at a later session.

16. (Currently Amended) A method according to claim 1, wherein the requested multimedia communication session is a multimedia call requiring the transfer of separate media streams for at least audio and video.

17. Canceled.

18. (Currently Amended) A terminal according to claim 47 31, wherein the terminal is arranged to use the telephone number of the other terminal as available session key to detect a match between that telephone number and a stored session key associated with stored session parameters.

19. (Currently Amended) A terminal according to claim 47 31, wherein the available session key is a primary session key, and if a match is detected between the primary session key and a stored session key associated with stored session parameters, the terminal is arranged to retrieve a corresponding secondary session key and send it to the other terminal, such that the secondary session key can be used by the called terminal to retrieve the stored session parameters, even if no primary session key was available to the called terminal, or if the called terminal have not detected any match between an available primary session key and any stored session key.

- 20. (Currently Amended) A terminal according to claim47 31, wherein the available session key is a primary session key, and the terminal is arranged to receive from the other terminal a corresponding secondary session key, and use it to retrieve the stored session parameters by detecting a match between that secondary session key and a stored session key associated with the stored session parameters.
